Friends Say Folk Will Run

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 20.—It is a common belief in Jefferson City among the friends of former Gov. Joseph W. Folk that he will enter the race for the nomination for United States Senator provided he is assured of the backing of Secretary of State Bryan.

This much is gathered from the conversation of politicians and others eager to see Mr. Folk become a candidate.

Letters received in the last few days from Washington strengthen the rumors.

As far back as last September, when Judge W. W. Graves had his possible senatorial candidacy under consideration, it was known that Mr. Folk entertained the view that his acceptance of a post at Washington did not eliminate him from active participation in politics in Missouri.

The relations of Judge Graves and Mr. Folk have been very close.
